Nicholasville, Ky., June 29th, 60.

Editors Louisville Courier: I presume you would like to know how the nomination of Breekinshide to know how the nomination of Breekinshide and Lane was received in this county.—
Permit me to say I have never heard a more decided and general approbation than is manifested. There is but one response, and that is applause. Every true Democrat intends to be up and doing his duty, and all are proud of such leaders as John C. Breckinridge and Gen. Joseph Lane. There is no disputing or hesitating—all are confident of a glorious victory. They will battle manfully and honorably for their true and gallant leaders, and for the great principles which they are pledged to carry out. Dependupon it, I have never heard a more popular response to any nomination than is in favor of our candidates in Jessamine. In looking over the Daily Louisville Democrat of yesterday, I see that some ignorant Douglasite, of this village, has greatly imposed upon friend Harney by telling him that the nomination of the "duck-legged" Senator was received here with "unparolled enthusium." Such a statement struck every one with surprise. Mr. Douglas has never had thenty friends in Jessamine county since he ceased to act with the National Democratic party. It is true that we have a paper in this village which is advocating his cause, but I assure you that the Nicholasville Democrat does not reflect public sentiment in this county, and I dare say it represents but few besides its editor. I repeat that the Nicholasville Democrat does not reflect the views of the Democracy of Jessamine; what it says is of no importance.

A GOOD LETTER FROM TENNESSEE.

A GOOD LETTER FROM TENNESSEE.

GALLATIN, June 29, 1860.

Editors Louiseille Courier: The political thermometer of this town, county, and State stands thus: Belekinsingh 170, blood heat; Bell S5, temperate; Douglas 32, freezing. No doubt some of your citizens are spending their idle moments in supposing how the State of Tennessee will cast her vote in the next Presidential contest. Some think, perhaps, that Bell will obtain the vote; some say that it may be that Douglas will earry the State. Let me make a suggestion to those who are so much mistaken. cause of their ultimate return. The taste of the ing, and they are beginning to fall off already-

A VILLAINOUS ATTEMPT TO THROW A TRAIN OFF THE TRACK ON THE JEFFERSONVILLE ROAD.—We learn that on Wednesday last the train on the Jeffersonville road, when about twenty-five miles from that city, narrowly escaped a fright ful accident by the villainy of some parties who deserve burning at the stake. An iron rail had been placed directly across the track and bound down at each end by ropes, the whole being covered with pleces of bark to hide the iron. Fortunately, the cow-catcher ran so close to the ground as to strike the upper edge of the rail, and, breaking the ropes, forced the bar of iron from the track. Had the train been thrown off, a fearful destruction of life and limb must have followed, as the bar had been placed upon the most dangerous portion of the road.

The present comet promises well; its nucleus is as bright as a star of the fourth magnitude; well concentrated, and has appended to it a narrow tail, but little curved, and rising vertically from the horizon, like a faint streamer of the Aurora. NUMBER 1.

THE SHIP GREAT EASTERN.

Her First Trip. This leviathan of the waters, which arrived at the port of New York last week, is creating a great excitement among the Knickerbockers, who are, however, always ready to go mad over anything from a Russian Count to a real hero. The trip of the Great Eastern was very successful. The following extract from the New York News, in reference to it, is interesting: THE VOYAGE TO NEW YORK.

THE VOYAGE TO NEW YORK.

The Great Eastern was advertised to sail on Saturday, the 16th of June. Workmen were engaged on her up to 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, and before they could be disembarked, the weather, which had been stormy since noon became thick and hazy, so that it was felt by the pilot that it would be dangerous to attempt taking so large a vessel through the intricate channel of the Solent in the uncertain light of the evenium. She lay, therefore, at her moorings it pilot that it would be dangerous to attempt taking so large a vessel through the intricate channel of the Solent in the uncertain light of the evening. She lay, therefore, at her moorings in Southampton water till Sunday morning.

About 7 o'clock, orders were given to unshackle the mooring chains. Such is the ponderous character of these cables, that it was some forty-five minutes before this could be effected. The morning was raw and gusty, with the wind blowing down the river. The tide had canted the huge vessel athwart the channel, which she appeared to half block up, but on hoisting the fore staysail she slowly paid off, and got her head pointed in the direction she was to go. Steam was admitted into the cylinders of the paddle engines about $£10, shortly after, the order was given, "casy ahead with the screw," and the Great Eastern steamed slowly out on her first voyage to sea. It has been a matter of remark in all the trials, that no motion whatever is felt when the ship is under way.—This was corroborated by our experience of the start this morning. It was not until the objects on shore began to recede, that one could realize the fact of the huge ship being fairly on her journey. A few minutes steaming brought us abreast of Calshot Castle, where the colors were dipped in acknowledgment of a similar coursesy from the fort. With this exception, our departure was ungreeted. The men on board the few vessels we saw, had seen so much of the big ship that she excited no emotion in their minds, and we passed ylarmouth, our presence was acknowledged by lowering the ensign at the Yacht Club House, a civilty duly returned by the ship. In two hours from starting, we were abreast of the Needles, a little to the eastward of which we passed a large ship on shore, that had come to grief in trying to run out during the haziness of the previous evening. At 10:20 we discharged our Southampton pilot, Mr. Bowyer, who, on taking his departure, fraternized very cordially with his American conferere, Mr. Murphy.

In a few minut

the screw making 27 revolutions and the paddles about 7½ revolutions per minute, and ran down Channel. The ship, on starting drew 22 feet of water forward and 26 feet aft. Her right trim water forward and 26 feet aft. Her right trim is on an even keel, so that her condition was unfavorable to her best performance. She had 5,500 tons of coal in the bunkers. Being stowed principally aft, this had something to do with her being down by the stern. The object in making the trip out was not to attempt to get any great amount of speed out of the ship, but to get the machinery and men in good working order.

The engines after every tripl have had more or.

ing order.

The engines after every trial have had more or less work done on them, and the men were totalless work done on them, and the men were totally unacquainted with the work they had to perform. One of the greatest difficulties which have been felt by the officers of the ship, on all the trial trips and now when they started on their first voyage, was having to get under way, the crew and fireman strange to their work, and, therefore, less likely to be efficient than if they had enjoyed the advantage of a little previous training. The experience acquired and the or-steadily down the English Channel, making a straight course past the Bitt of Portland. Numerous vessels were passed, but no notice was taken of us, if we except the case of one little schooner, which, standing across our bows, held on her course until a collision seemed inevitable. She then steered up alongside, mear enough to toss a biscuit on board, and having apparently satisfied herself of our charscur and proportions, luffed up and continued her course.

As we rounded the Scilly Islands we met the long westerly swell of the Atlantic Ocean. The great ship acknowledged its power by behaving very much in the same way as another would have done under similar circumstances—that is to say, that she rolled very distinctly. The motion, though similar in kind, is much less in degree, and much slower than in a smaller vessel.

The Great Eastern—so outrages all generally received notions of ships and sea life, that when in strolling about one of her spacious unoccupied lower decks, a party of English and American gentlemen are discovered in an odd corner engaged in a great international skittle match, one accepts it as a matter of course, and is therefore fully prepared to find a billiard table in full blast in some other unexplored compartment of the vessel. It is certainly the first time skittles were ever played in crossing the Atlantic; but the idea is a good one, as enabling those who are fond of athletic sports to divert the tedium of a sea passage by first-rate physical exercise. Several exciting foot-races have come off around our ample deck, and the distance to be run in making the complete circle has been found sufficient to give the competitors a very decided "breathing." For those whose tastes do not lie in the direction of gymnastics, there is a well selected library of the English classics, which the accommodations of the saloons enable one to enjoy most luxuriously. Quite an interesting feature in our trip has been evening concerts in the ladies' saloon. Mr. McFarlane, the conductor, and an able planis

THE VOICE OF THE NATIONAL

DEMOCRACY. Hon. John S. Phelps, of Mo., a member of Con gress, has been announced as being for Douglas. and was undoubtedly at one time so inclined; but the St. Louis News, of Wednesday last, says he has given in his adhesion to the Constitutional Democracy, and will support BRECKIN RIDGE and LANE.

THE PRESS OF TENNESSEE. The Democratic newspapers in Tennessee ar almost a unit for BRECKINRIDGE and LANE .-Even the Memphis Appeal, an old Douglas organ, hesitates, and will yet support the Consti-tutional ticket. We give a few extracts from tutional ticket. We give a few extracts from some of the leading papers:

Our banner is unfurled to the breeze. The National Democratic Convention has nominated the Hon. John C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, for President, and Gen. Joseph Lane, of Oregon, for Vice-President.

They are worthy of, and will receive the support of all true Democrats, who regard principles as superior to men, and measures to expediency. The platform adopted must meet the approval of all who respect Democratic principles and the equal constitutional rights of all sections. From every indication, this ticket will receive an enthusiastic support in every Southern and Pacific State, and is the only one before the people that can check the onward march of Black Republicanism.—[Knoxville Register.

THE NOMINEES.—It is with the most profound pleasure that we to-day hoist at our mast-head the names of John C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, for President, and Joseph Lane, of Oregon, for Vice-President.

The intelligence of the nominations of the above gentlemen reached us just as we were going to press, and we have only room at present to say that we most heartily and cordially endorse their nomination, as well as the proceedings of the Convention that nominated them.

ceedings of the Convention that nominated them.

We will be found doing battle for the Union and the Constitution, and at all times contributing our mile to secure the election of these conservative national men. Hereafter we will let our readers hear from us more extendedly, when we will give "a reason for the faith that is in us," and why we are for that talented, noble, and patriotic statesman, John C. Breekinridge, for President, and that old war-horse and patriot, Joe Lane, for Vice-President.

The nomination of these men was received in this place with great enthusiasm, and our word for it, less than two weeks from this day the mountains of Tennessee will be on fire for the chivalrous and gallant ticket at our mathead.—

Great enthusiasm is exhibited through the South at the result of the seceders' Convention—indeed, it appears to be the true Democratic Convention. We hoped to be able to announce in this issue that Judge Douglas has declined the nomination tendered him under so many disparaging circumstances; but, as yet, have nothing more than rumor to that effect.—We yet hone it may be say then, united, the Democracy would make a glorious oid-fashioned fight, under the banner of Breckinridge and Lane. therefore, less likely to be efficient than if they had enjoyed the advantage of a little previous training. The experience acquired and the organization effected while steaming out will ensible the great ship to show a very decided improvement in her performance on the passage home. The loss of prestige occasioned by the accident on the first trial trip is the cause of so few passengers crossing in her. But for that, there is no doubt that all who could have made it at all convenient would have availed themselves of the superior comfort and accommodation offered by the big ship. The ample space, light and ventilation of the sleeping cabins offer so striking a contrast to what is afforded by the crack ships of the Cunard or Peninsular and Oriental Company, that the traveler who has had the good fortune to enjoy the one will feel more keenly than ever how much he is "cabined, cribbed, and confined" in the others. It is no small matter for the voyager, especially in the tropies, to be able to retire to his berth on a hot night without feeling that he is about to undergo, to a greater or less extent, a process of partial suffocation.

The system of ventilation adopted in the sleeping cabins insures the passage of a current of fresh air, which can be very easily regulated so as to suit the feelings of the occupants.

After discharging the pilot, the ship steamed steadily down the English Channel, making a straight course past the Bitt of Portland. Numerous vessels were passed, but no notice was taken of us, if we except the case of one little schooner, which, standing across our bows, held from the mapped and Lane theket, and adds:

They are national men, and are worthy of a hearty, cheerful, persistent support.

The meeting was first addressed by Col. Jacob Miller, of Hawkins county. He did not appear to make a regular speech, but to give his Democratic friends an old-fashioned Democratic talk. He referred to the present crisis, the dangerous attitude assumed by the Black Republicans, which, if successful, must lead to the disruption of this Union. The only hope of the Union is in the triumph of Democratic principles. He spoke well of S. A. Douglas as a statesman, and his past services to the party, but regarded it the duty of every Democrat to rally around the standard of Breckinridge and Lane. He passed high encomiums upon the latter gentlemen and religied himself to give the party.

that Douglas would receive votes enough in Kentucky to throw the State for Bell. Kentucky gentlemen assure us that we are mistaken on that point. They say there is not a particle of doubt of the ability of Breckinridge to carry the State—that the Douglas vote will not exceed ten thousand; and that there will be such a war-whoop raised for Breckinridge as has not been heard by her mountains and rivers since the days of Clay. The Bell men will be hopeful, but the Breckinridge men enthused and full of unconquerable resolution. A Kentuckian said to us yesterday, that the idea that Breckinridge would not carry his own State was supremely absurd. The young men were all for him. Breckinridge was an electric individual and a man of destiny. Douglas had no strength except in about ten counties. In the great majority of counties, a Douglas man would be hunted out as if he were a wolf or a nigger thief. The Kentuckians believe largely in the luck of Breckinridge. They believe he was born to be President, and that something, they do not know exactly what, will turn up to elect him this time. In this indefinable something, they have perfect confidence (Reported Expressly for the Louisville Courler.)

He testified that when he left the court room last Monday he started up Jefferson street, and just after passing the corner of Sixth street, he was called back by Trainor, and asked if he had not induced Evaline Coomes to swear out a felony warrant against him (Trainor), which McKay denied, when he was struck and knocked down by the watchman. Bail in $100 was required to answer a misdemeanor.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC TICKET. FOR PRESIDENT,

JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE, Of Kentucky.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

GENERAL JOE LANE,

Of Oregon.

FELLOW-CITIZENS: For this manifestation of kindness, respect, and confidence, I shall always feel most grateful. I am proud of this opportunity of seeing you, of speaking to you, very briefly indeed, in relation to matters having reference to the common good of our common country. [Applause.] We are now in the midst of a crisis, in which the welfare, prosperity, and happiness of our beloved country is deeply invoived. It depends upon the American people to say what the fate of our country shall be, for everything, in my judgment, depends upon the resuit of the approaching election.

My friends, you must pardon me for alluding to the action of the Convention recently assembled at Baltimore; but I cannot forbear expressing my gratitude and my pride for having been piaced by the action of the National Democratic party [A voice—"That's so."] upon that icket with the noble, the gifted, the gallant young Kentuckian. [Lond applause.] He is one whom I have known for years; one whom I knew in Mexico; whom I have known in the councils of your nation; and whom I knew when we were struggling for the honor of our country upon a foreign soil. He is a statesman who has borne himself nobly and gallantly in every position in which he has been placed. [A voice—"That's so."] Allow me to say, my friends, that in John C. Breckinridge you have the very soul of chivalry; you have the very soul of truth, of integrity, and of patriotism; and a man who is devoted to the service of his country. Then, my friends, is it not a proud thing to be associated on the ficket with such a standard-bearer? ["Yes"] That its country, and contends for the country of this country, and contends for the country of the ficket represents the National Democracy of this country, and contends for the country on the face of the carth, under a Constitution handed down to us by our fathers, and which is sacred to every portion of the country, and the leading feature of which is equality in the Union of these The Spirit of the Douglasites. The Democrat of Sunday morning indicates, in the paragraph given below, the spirit by which the reckless and desperate Squatters are actuated. The age, character, reputation, attainments, and services of Caleb Cushing are forgotten by the enemies of the South, or, remembered but to give zest to their hatred of the man who is so immeasurably above them now as to love the whole Union, assert the rights of the States, and maintain the Constitution, when to do so conflicts with personal interest The Mr. Johnson alluded to was the colleague of Gen. Cushing in the National Convention, and like him, his only offense is that he would not stand by and give his sanction to acts which all honorable men condemn in the strongest terms -that he insisted upon giving a proper construction to the Cincinnati platform, in accordance with the understanding of all the Demo-cratic States of the Union—that he would not every portion of the country, and the leading ture of which is equality in the Union of these support for President a man who had abandons My friends, if we would preserve that Union party, opposed it in the Senate, and acted and for its maintenance no man living would go further than your humble servant—for the main-tenance of that Union upon the principles of the Constitution, no man would throw himself into the breach, or lay down his life, with more pleawith the enemies of its principles and the Union. These men need no defense: and those who de monstrate the littleness of their souls and the wardice of their hearts by burning the effigies of honest patriots from whose glance they would shrink appalled and humiliated, can find advo-cates at the bar of enlightened public opinion only in men of like natures with themselves: only in men of like natures with themselves:

Caleb Cushing and Geo. Johnson Hung in Effigy.—A dispatch from Haverhill, Mass., says that two effigies were found suspended across Merrimae street, near the Baptist Church, this morning, one of which was labeled "Caleb Cushing, a traitor to his country." the other,
"George Johnson, false to his Constituents, his Country and his God." They were cut down by much to the annoyance of the Douglas Democracy.

further than your humble servant—for the maintenance of that Union upon the principles of the Constitution, no man would throw himself into the breach, or lay down his life, with more pleasure and promptness than myself—we must stand by its guarantees, by the equality of States, by the protection of our citizens on the high seas, in the Territories, or wherever the jurisdiction of the Government extends. [Applause.] American citizens from all portions of our country are equally entitled to protection of person and property, not only on the high seas but on the common Territory of our common country, the heritage of our common people. ["That's so," and applause.]

Then, my friends, these guarantees, these constitutional rights, extend to every portion of the country. Let it not be said that the ticket presented by the National Democratic Convention at Baltimore contends only for the rights of a portion of the States of this Union. It is not so. No man must say that by this ticket the rights of the South alone are protected; for the party that nominated this ticket will stand by the guaranteed rights of every State in the Union as ready to rush to the rescue of Maine, Massachnsetts, Oregon and California, if invaded by a foreign foe, as any other State in the Union—[applause]—as ready to stand by the constitutional rights of South Carolina as of Oregon or any other State. We know no section as distinct from the other; we know the Constitution and the States under it, and their rights as guaranteed under that instrument. To look at the progress and prosperity of this country since the days when our fathers formed the Government under which we live, every sensible man will see that it would appear we have been the especial care of Divine Providence, and that the same Divine Providence has watched over it, and built it up within a short period of time to be one of the greatest nations of the carth. If we would have that protection afforded to us we must merit it; we must be honest; we must doright and fear not; we m The Cincinnati Enquirer, whose editor ntrolled only by personal considerations, has been against DougLas (on the Kansas bill), and with him (for the Presidency)—for the Adminis-tration (while he held an office under it), and against it (when he had been displaced)-for the Opposition (when he supported TIM DAY for Congress), with the Democracy (when it was apparent Buchanan would be elected and while he was a Federal officeholder), and again with the Opposition (when he had nothing more to expect from the President)—for the Wilmot Proviso and the abolition of the slave trade in the District of Columbia (when in Congress), and is probably for both yet-who is all things, anything, or nothing, as his interests prompt him-this paper is engaged in the congenial work of trying to fer ment bad feeling among the Democrats of Ken tucky, by appealing to personal animosities and individual antipathies, in order to prop up a cause which is abhorred by all our people. It will have its labor for its pains. It cannot enlighten the intelligent Democracy of this State upon the nature and extent of their difficulties, and is incapable of teaching men actuated by sincere attachment to great principles how to discharge their duty. The Democrats of Ken-tucky have personal dislikes and entertain personal preferences, it may be; but when the allied enemies of their institutions, and the combined assailants of their rights, led on by LINCOLN and Douglas, and encouraged by the lukewarmness indifference, indecision, and uncertainty of the friends of Bell and Everett, are threatening them in front and rear, they would be recrean and false, unworthy inheritors of the fame and name of their fathers, were they stop to inquire whether their colors are carried by GUTHRIE or borne by Breckingidge. The Enquirer does not know enough of Kentucky character to feel re buked by the disinterestedness and integrity of [Applause.]
This ticket I can say knows no North, no South—nothing but the Union and the Constitution; the welfare, prosperity and happiness of all the States. [Loud applause.] Trust me as I the conduct of Kentucky politicians.

The Bell and Everett men-the Igno opened the ball on Saturday night by a speech from W. H. Wadsworth, one of their State Electors. This gentleman, one of the ablood of their leaders, unquestionably indicated the tactics of his party in this State. The are very simple: the Douglasites are to b raged, aided and abetted; the Constitutional Demoracy are to be denounced a firee aters, secessionists, disunionists, etc., and disparaged by all means in their power; and their own organization is to be glorified as the Union party: the philosophy lies on the surface —the contest is between BRECKINRIDGE and BELL, and every vote for Douglas is really one for Bell; and the modus operandi of the cam paign will be adapted to the exigencies of the

Their hopes all depend on the Squatters. Un less the friends of Douglas can organize an electoral ticket, and poll for it a respectable vote the Ignorers know they cannot carry Kentucky and all they they can do indirectly to strengthen their allies will be done. When an Opposition orator is heard praising the consistency of Doug-LAS, and lauding his patriotism, while assailing the Democracy, it is not difficult to fathom his purpose. Every such effort will only serve o illustrate the great fact in the canvass in this State-THAT THE CONTEST IS BETWEEN BRECKIN-RIDGE AND BELL, AND THAT BACH DEMOCRATIC VOTE FOR DOUGLAS IS A VOTE FOR BELL.

Breckinridge and Lane in Kentucky. The Owensboro Democrat has not put the names of Breckingidge and Lane at the head of its columns, but in the course of an editorial in its last issue it indicates its course by saying "If Mr. BRECKINRIDGE accepts, and the severance continues on to the election, we, of course, will be found doing him all the good we can." All the Democratic State officers at Frankfort, from the Governor down, are enthusiastic in support of Breckingidge and Lane.

It is by no means certain that the nine Kentucky delegates who remained in the Convention that nominated Douglas will support him. Col. Morrow, of the First District, was in Frankfort a few days since, and requested the Yeoman to say that he did not vote for Douglas in the Convention, and has not yet determined what position he will take in the coming cansey visited our office yesterday, says the N. Y. Day Book, and we learn from them that the Demo racy of the northern and eastern counties are for Breckinridge ten to one. They express the utmost confidence in carrying the State for our ticket against Lincoln or Bell. The vote in detail in 1856 was in round numbers: Buchanan, 47,000; Fremont, 28,000; Filmore, 24,000. In the Governor's election last year the united Opposition vote had increased about 700, and Demoeratic 4,500. Breckinridge will poll 40,000 next fall and beat everything else. Huyler and nearly all of the delegates to Baltimore have come out for Breckinridge.

Mr. Douglas' Southern Vote.

Mr. Douglas received but 28½ votes from the Southern States in the Convention by which he was put in nomination. Of these, nine from Alabama, and six from Louisiana, were cast by men who had no shadow of authority to act as delegates. The real vote from the South is thus reduced 131/2, almost every one of which was given to him by delegates who misrepresented

The Democracy of the Nation will be gratified to learn that the veteran Democratic standard bearer, Hon. Cave Johnson, of Tenn., earnestly supports the nominations of Breckin-RIDGE and LANE. He feels that only such as are willing to lend a helping hand to John Bell can for a moment think of throwing their votes away on Mr. Douglas.

The remarkable virtues of this preparation for recuperating and restoring the hair to bald heads, restoring it to its original color, removing the dand ruff and cutaneous affection of the head, and giving a healthy tone to the scalp. For the toilet table there is nothing its equal, it having been thoroughly tested in this country by the proprietor the past two years be-fore he could be induced to bring it before the public, and until he was thoroughly satisfied of its virtues. Abundant certificates of the highest character can be shown testifying to its unequalled virtues. It is made of roots, and is, therefore, perfectly harmless in its composition, containing no oil. When in use all other preparations should be laid aside, especially any that contain substances of an oily nature. Whole-sale and retail by A. G. SCHMIDT, Druggist and Chemist, corner Fifth and Market streets, Louisville, Ky. Retailed by the principal druggists and merchants throughout the country. m19 deodly

A WORD TO THE WISE.—The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No. 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest, and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and similar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To the country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equalled. Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small carpet bag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than the great Western factory of Mr. O'Hare. His manuextensive patronage. As a matter of home pride, and to subserve economy, purchasers will consult their best interest in purchasing of Mr. D. O'Hare. Remember, that the United States Prize Medal was awarded to D. O'Hare for the best trunks made.

TO THE LADIES !- We invite the special attenresperity and happiness of this country, I accept heartily the nomination that has been so indly tendered me by the Covention at Baltition of the Ladies to the large and attractive stock of Dress Goods just received by G. B. Tabb, corner of Fourth and Market streets. His stock of Fancy Silks has been selected with great care, and embraces a variety of new styles different from any heretofore received in the market, and having been purchased since the recent decline in Silks, enables him to offer great inducements to purchasers. Wherever it has been introduced, Vulcar e Base for Artificial Teeth has met with unqualified approbation. We can recommend it as possessing the following advantages over every other kind of base: lightness, cleanliness, and the superior comfort with which it is worn. Messrs. Fitz & Fulton are putting up this and all other styles of work to the entire satisfaction of all their patrons. We would say to those who are interested, call at their office on Fifth street, next door to the Cathedral, and examine specimens. All other dental operations are perform-ed in a careful manner.

AMERICAN WATCHES, MADE BY THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY AT WALTHAM, MASS.

Attention is invited to the following statement and a companying letters of recommendation and testimental in favor of these celebrated Watches.

A gold medal was awarded the Company by the Ameri-an Institute, at New York, in 1887. The Company also received the first premium—a gold ledal—from the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, in 1888. These Watches have now been in the market. These Watches have now been in the market for nearly any years, during which time they have been tested as to ecuracy, durability, and reliability in every conceivable. anner, and have proved themselves to be the most sat manner, and have proved themselves to be the most sat-isfactory time-pieces ever offered to the public. This result has been brought about by a strict applica-tion of mechanical science to the construction of the Watch from its very inception, rendering it when finished, mathematically correct in all its proportions, and neces-sarily as perfect a time-keeper as it is possible to make. The Company have tested their Watches in many in-stances by actual daily noting, and the result of this test has been that they have exhibited a rate equal in regu-larity to the best marine chronometer. larity to the best marine chronometer.

N. B.—We have just introduced a new style of Watch, claborately finished, and thinner than any we have hither to produced, with several improvements calculated to insure the greatest accuracy of performance, and to prent the usual accidents and derangements to which for eign watches are liable.

The following is from Mr. PORTER, the well-known Marine Chronometor and Watch Maker: Boston, April 20, 1860. Mr. R. E. Robbins, Treasurer, &c.

R. E. Robbins, Esq.

Dear Sir: The American Watch made by your Company, which I have had in constant use for about a year, has kept excellent time, and sastains your guaranty. It seems to be less disturbed by horseback and railroad-car joiling than the generality of foreign watches.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE P. MORRIS.

R. E. Robbins, Treasurer American Watch Co.

Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in being able to certify that for the hast ten months I have carried a watch from the manulactory of the American Watch Company, and that it has given perfect satisfaction as a time-keeper, Judzing from the one I have, I do not hesitate to predict that the day is not far distant when watches made in the United States will supercede all others.

WILTON BLUFF, S. C., October 20, 1859. WILTON BLUFF, S. C., October 20, 1859.

R. E. Robbins, Esq.

Dear Sir: The three watches of your manufacture which I purchased to be used on my plantasion, have proved to be the most correct time-keepers I have ever known. I gave my head servant, my head carpenter, and my head engineer, each one of them; and since they have been in their respective possessions, every thing on the plantation has moved like clock-work, in consequence of the extreme accuracy and regularity with which these the extreme accuracy and regularity with which thes watches perform. Yours truly, LEWIS MORRIS.

CHICAGO, ILL., March, 1860, American Watch Company, Waltham, Mass. I have tested with extreme care the running of the watch I bought of you, now nearly a year since, and so accurate and equable has been its performances that I have thought it would interest you, and all others familiar with boreloss. th horology to see a record of its variations. It was finally set to true time after it had been regulating in my Caution.—Asour watch is now extensively counterfeited by foreign manufacturers, we have to inform the public that no watch is of our production which is unaccompanied by a certificate of genuineness, bearing the number of the watch, and signed by our Treasurer, R. E. Robbiss or by our predecessors. APPLETON, TRACY & CO.

As these watches are for sale by Jewelers generally throughout the Union, the American Watch Company denot solicit orders for sincle watches.

M. Patchen, the winning horse in the late trot:

Patchen was got by Cassius M. Clay, out of the Trustee mare, grand-dam from Eclipse. He foaled in 1849. This noble horse is a fine, deep blood bay, with no white save a small star, black legs, mane and tail; is sixteen hands high, and a great, strong, powerful steed, fit to draw a coach or drag a dray. He is very long in carcass, deep in chest; very oblique in shoulders, which reach far back over his ribs; his back is medium in length; he has immense quarters, lying far forward into his waist, well muscled down to his hocks; great second thighs and forcarms, with broad, bony hocks and knees; great, broad flat bone below the knees and hocks, with capital feet. His neck is admirably and beautifully arched; head large and plain, but very clean, long and gamy in look; ears large, plain and clear, almost diaphanous. His throttle is free and well detached; the jaws wide and open, and the whole breathing system quite perfection, from the great, open, expansive nostril, to the symmetrical chest and powerful lungs. An eye of fire, of spirit and good temper crowns all, and tells of a courageous heart and boundless, hervous energy.

spirit and good temper crowns all, and tells of a courageous heart and boundless, nervous energy.

Should not such a horse have a phenomenon's gait? He should, and has. There is a great sweep from the point of the hip to the hock, and here lies his muscular power. In his shoulder there is great reach, fully equal in extent to the driving powers of his great hannehes, thighs and hocks. In his gait he goes low and long, carries his body steady and level, without any hitch, bounding or rolling, and in stride excels any trotting horse ever yet seen. In a word, he is a great mass of animal mechanics, in whose heart is high courage, and in whose every fibre is untold nervous energy. With speedy form and strong spirit, he can go and can last; and when the pace is so rattling that it kills, he will be the longest to stay the distance, the last to give back, and it must be a hard day and a killing pace that will make hin show "the white feather," which, as yet, though beaten, has never waved over him. If ever the horse lived who could go twenty-one miles in an hour, that horse is Patchen; and, with a good day, a good track, his great stride, his untiring bottom, and a strong courageous heart, would carry him through a winner over both time and distance. A Comet Seen.—Captain Watson, of the Charleston steamer Potomac, on Friday night, when about twenty miles north of Cape Henlopen, saw a large comet about twelve degrees above the horizon. It was very distinct and is supposed to be the expected Charles V. comet. A correspondent of the Sun, writing from Georgetown Cross Roads, Kent county, Md., states that between eight and nine o'clock, on Friday evening last, he observed what he supposed to be a comet. The nucleus appeared to be about Northwest, at an angle of 25 degrees above the horizon, with a tail of about six feet. BLADENSBURG, June 18.

DEAR DEALER:—Pistols and coffee for two, As I am alone in this classic ground I can take care that the pistols do no harm, and the coffee is harmless anyhow. The place, so noted for its polite and refined murders, is about five miles from the city, fresh and handsome, in full livery of green, adorned with flowers, and should blush in its beauty for the scenes it has witnessed. Here, in a beautiful little grass plat, surrounded by trees, forms, made after the image of God, come to insult Nature and defy Heaven. In 1814 Edward Hopkins was killed here in a duel. This seems to have been the first of these fashionable murders on this dueling-ground.

In 1819, A.T. Mason, a United States Senator from Virginia, fought with his sister's husband, John McCarty, here. McCarty was averse to fighting, and thought there was no necessity for it; but Mason would fight. McCarty named muskets loaded with grape-shot, and so near together that they would hit heads if they fell on their faces. This was changed by the seconds to loading with bullets, and taking twelve feet as the distance. Mason was killed instantly, and McCarty, who had his collar bone broken, still lives with Mason's sister in Georgetown. His hair turned white so soon after the fight as to cause much comment. He has since been solicited to act as second in a duel, but refused in accordance with a pledge he made to his wite soon after killing her brother.

In 1820, Comodore Decatur was killed in a duel here by Commodore Baron. At the first fire both fell forward with their heads within ten feet of each other, and as each supposed himself mortally wounded, each fully and freely forgave the other, still laying on the ground. Decatur expired immediately, but Baron eventually recovered.

pired immediately, but Baron eventually recovered.

In 1821, two strangers named Lega and Sega appeared here, fought, and Sega was instantly killed. The neighbors only learned this much of their names from the marks on their gloves left on the ground. Lega was not hurt.

In 1822, Midshipman Locke was killed here by a clerk of the Treasury Department, uamed Gibson. The latter was not hurt.

In 1826, Henry Clay fought (his second duel) with John Randolph, just across the Potomac, as Randolph preferred to die, if at all, on Virginia soil, received Clay's shot and then fired his pissol into the air. This was in accordance with a declaration made to Mr. Benton, who spoke to Randolph of a call the evening before on Mrs. Clay, and alluded to the quiet sleep of her child and the repose of the mother. Randolph quickly replied:

"I shall do nothing to disturb the sleep of the child or the repose of the mother."

General Jessup, whose funeral I attended last week, was Clay's second. When Randolph fired heremarked:

 "No Matter," said Key, "I came to kill you."
 "Very well, then," said Sherborn, "I will now kill you," and he did.
 In 1888, W. J. Graves, of Kentucky, assuming the quarrel of James Watson Webb with Jonathan Cilley, of Maine, selected this place for Cilley's murder, but the parties learning that Webb, with two friends, Jackson and Morrel, were armed and in pursuit, for the purpose of assassinating Cilley, moved toward the river and nearer the city. Their pursuers moved toward the river but missed the parties, and then returned to the city, to which they were soon followed by Graves and the corpse of Cilley.
 In 1845, a lawyer named Jones fought with and killed a Dr. Johnson. In 1851, R. A. Hoole and A. J. Dallas had a hostile meeting here. Dallas was shot in the shoulder, but recovered. In 1852, Daniel and Johnson, two Richmond editors, held a harmless set to here, which terminated in coffee. With many of those who had no berths—and a With many of those who had no berths—and a large number were ladies—the common conventionalities of life were wholly disregarded. Men and women were forced to dress, as well as perform all the minuties of the toilet, many of them too sacred for sight, before crowds of admiring beholders. You reached your state-room at night only by great exertion, walking over prostrate sleepers, of both sexes, many in puribus naturalibus, owing to restlessness in sleep. Children were piled in on their parents—men and women who, but a few hours previous, were utter strangers, now in the very despair of their hopelessness, made common cause, and humanity, irrespective of sex, courted the drowsy god—oblivious of present woe in sleep. Each of the eight nights of our sojourn was but a facesimile of the picture thus drawn. The facilities for cleanliness may be imagined—the flish beggars description. It is really a miracle that gaunt disease did not lay his heavy hand on us. The provisions, in their original state, were doubtless all good, but the culinary efforts verified the old adage in respect to the paternity of the cooks.—The bed, table linen, and furniture were filthy; the servants had no time for cleanliness, in consequence of the multiplicity of their duties. Commercial.

OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER, SATURDAY EVENING, June 30, 1860. The month closes upon a very easy market. The demand to-day was small, being much less than the supply, and persons having good paper to offer found no difficulty in negotiating loans upon reasonable terms. The exchange market was quiet, with a fair demand for Eastern, which was met at 1/200 pre-

In regard to financial matters in New York, we take In regard to manient matters in New Fork, we take the following from the Herald of Thursday.

The flurry in the Money market continued this morning, and a good many lenders were able to put out their money at 62%, and mark up their loans to the same figure. The best short paper, with two undoubted mames, was refused by several leading banks below six; and some stock houses which were anxious to effect their loans early, paid the same price. At a later hour, however, the supply of money increased, and lenders were forced to be content with five. The excuse offered by the banks for putting up their rates is the demand for money to move the Western crops. It seems that within the past day or two, one or two of the large banks have lost quite considerable sums to the West. It is, however, too early in the season for any general crop movement, or any active Western demand for money.
The credits which have been given to Chicago and other Western cities must not be regarded as the beginning of the usual autumn flow of specie westward That will not set in for a month or so; and meanwhile our money market will pass through several fluctuations up and down.

present custom is but continuing to sustain dishon-est men, to the great injury of honest dealers. It is not an unsual thing to find lots of cheese shipped to this must in boxes weighing 30 to 303% whilst the tare allowed under the existing custom is but 103%. It asbourd of us to find fault with the plant-ery Louisiana for selling us cypress for sugar rapinle we tolerate such a mode of taring the cheese we send them; we would, therefore, say, let us re-move the beam from our own eye before we ask our Southern friends to take the mote out of theirs. We understood that a meeting of the cheese factors was to have been held this week, to consider this matter, but we believe it has not been, so far. Now is the time to do this, and we say let it be done. In the general market we have a continued dullness to report in Flour, with but a small demand from to report in Flour, with but a small demand from etail grocers and city bakers. Holders are anxious o sell, but buyers will not take hold. The market weak, and prices drooping, and we think that es will be compelled to decline 25¢ on the barrel for all grades. The small demand for Flour is only for family grades; fine and superfine are very dull and heavy, and holders would have been willing to part with their stocks at a decline upon our quota

The market for Wheat is not yet open, dealers and millers being determined not to offer any prices un-til the farmers are settled in their views. There e several samples of new Wheat in the market, out the parties having them are unable to get any offers, whatever, for them. There is some little old in the market which we quote nominally at $1 20@ $1 30 for choice Red and White. $1.30 for choice Red and White.

f Raw at 17%¢. The grocery market was very quiet to-day, with ut a small inquiry for Sugar at 81/4 @9¢ for the diffe ent qualities. To-day being Saturday, and the last day of June, there was no movement whatever, in the grocery market. We do not look for any trans-actions worthy of notice until about the 10th of July. There was nothing doing in Molasses, and we quote the market dull at 43@44¢ for barrels, and 46¢ for half barrels. The market for Coffee is firm with but a small inquiry at 14@14%¢ for prime Rio.

a smail inquiry at 14(6)14(2) for prime kilo.

There was an increased firmness manifested on the part of holders in Provisions. We quote Rib Sides at 11¢, and Clear Rib at 1116 There was a considerable movement in Mess Pork to-day, and some 1,000 bbls changed hands at $18 50, most of it being taken by one dealer. During the ast week or two, the Provision market has retained a firm and buoyant tone, and during the past three or four days the prices of Bacon have been contin-ually advancing. At this time last year the stock of Bacon in the city was very large, and the market was exceedingly weak. There is a small demand for Lard on orders at 12½¢ for tierces and 13¢ for kegs.

In regard to the Provision market & Cincinnati, we take the following from the Gazette of to-day:

Flour remains dull and the demand limited. Superfine sold at $4 75 and family at $5 30. Receipts light. Wheat declined 3¢ per bushel, closing dull. The demand for corn continues active, at 47¢; oats good at 38¢. Rye and barley unchanged. Whiskey steady at 17½¢. The provision market continues more buoyant, and somewhat excited. The indifference on the part of holders to sell was more marked to-day, and bacon was held at the even figures, 9, 11 and 12¢, for shoulders, sides and clear sides, and it was extremely difficult, if not impossible, to buy anything below these rates, though some shoulders sold in the morning at 8½¢, and subsequently at 8½¢, but less than 9¢ would not be listened to by most of the holders at the close, though we understand one or two lots could have been bought at 8½¢. Bulk meats were held at 8@10¢. In the forenoon we understood 50,000 bs sides sold at 9½¢, but this rate was below the views of holders at the close. Mess Pork buoyant and tending upward; $18 was freely offered, but $18 50 was asked. It was rumored that sales were made at $18 25. Lard remains without change. Groceries dull. Sugar 8@9¢. Molasses 44@ 45¢ and Coffee 14½@15¢.

Douglas' Letter of Acceptance.

Washington, June 27th, 1860. GENTLEMEN: -In accordance with the verbal Gentlemen:—In accordance with the verbal assurance which I gave you when you placed in my hands the authentic evidence of the nomination for the Presidency by the National Convention of the Democratic party, I now send you my formal acceptance.

Upon a careful examination of the platform of principles adopted at Charleston, and reaffirmed at Baltimore, with an additional resolution which is in perfect harmony with the others, I find it to be a faithful embodiment of the time-honored principles of the Democratic party, as the same were proclaimed and understood by all parties in the Presidential contests of 1848, 1852, and 1856. parties in the Freshedman contests of 1849, 1856.

Upon looking into the proceeding of the Convention, also, I find that the nomination was made with great unanimity, in the presence and with the concurrence of more than two-thirds of the whole number of delegates, and in exact concordance with the long-established usages of the party. My inflexible purpose not to be a candidate nor to accept the nomination under any contingency, except as the regular nominee of the National Democratic party, and, in that case, only upon the condition that the usages as of the National Democratic party, and, in that case, only upon the condition that the usages as well as the principles of the party should be strictly adhered to, had been proclaimed for a long time, and became well known to the coun-try. These conditions having all been complied with by the free and voluntary action of the Democratic masses and their faithful represen-tatives, without any agency, interference, or protatives, without any agency, interference, or pr curement on my part, I feel bound in honor ar uty to accept the nomination. In taking this step I am not unmindful of the reponsibilities it imposes, but with firm reliand in Divine Providence, I have faith that the pe ues involved, and eventually maintain ight. The peace of the country and the setuation of the Union have been put in je by by the attempts to interfere with and rol the domestic affairs of the people in cerritories, through the agency of the Fe For the domestic through the agency of the Fo fovernment. If the power and the duty of Sederal interference is to be conceded, to ile sectional parties must be the inevital Government. If the power and the duty of the Federal interference is to be conceded, two hostile-sectional parties must be the inevitable result—the one inflaming the passions and ambition of the North, and the other of the South—and each struggling to use the Federal power and authority for the aggrandizement of its own section at the expense of thee equal rights of the other and in derogation of those fundamental principles—the principles of self-government, which were firmly established in this country by the American revolution, as the basis of an entire republican system. During the memorable period of our political history, where the advocates of Federal intervention upon the subject of slavery in the Territories, had well nigh precipitated the country into revolution, the Northern interventionists demanding the Wilmot proviso for the prohibition of slavery, and Southern interventionists, then few in number, and without a single representative in either House of Congress, insisting upon Congressional legislation for the protection of slavery in opposition to the wishes of the people. In either case, it will be remembered that it required all the wisdom, power and influence of a Clay and a Webster, and a Cass, supported by the conservative and patriotic men of the Whig and Democratic parties of that day, to devise and carry out a line of policy which would restore peace to the country and stability to the Union. The essential living principle of that policy, as applied in the legislation of 1858 was, and now its, non-intervention by Congress with slavery in the Territories. The fair application of this just and equitable principle restored harmony and fraternity to a distracted country. If we now depart from the wise and just policy which produced these happy results, and permit the country to be again distracted in not precipitated into a revolution by a sectional contest between pro-slavery and anti-slavery interventionits, where shall we look for another Clay, another Webster, another Cass, to pilot the in trust from the patriots and sages of the Rev With sincere thanks for the kind and agree able manner in which you have made known to me the action of the Convention, I have the r to be, very respectfully, your friend a secitizen, STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

Prom New York.

New York, June 30.—Between five and six o'clock yesterday evening a violent squall passed over South Brooklyn, causing a terrible accident at the Academy of Music, in process of erection in that city. At the time the squall was at its height, twenty-live workmen were engaged in putting up the roof of the edifice when a gust of wind entirely demolished the roof of the building. Six of the workmen were injured by the accident, two of them so seriously that they are not expected to recover. The damage done to the Academy is estimated at about $10,000. Luther B. Wyman, one of the stockholders, who was inspecting the building at the time; John C. Simpson, master rigger; Wm. Cleves, stone mason; John Kennedy, laborer; Jeremiah Morrison, a mason, and Chas Barlow, his apprentice boy, are among the injured.

The Mozart Hall Democratic General Committee held a meeting last evening and adopted a series of resolutions deploring the divisions in the ranks of the Democracy, and recommending the nomination of a joint electoral ticket in the State of New York, to be supported by the united Democracy, and, if such a union cannot be effected, to support Judge Douglas for the Presidency.

Judge Douglas' letter of acceptance is published. He reiterates the doctrine of non-intervention in strong terms.
